

The Importance of Learning an English Language

JSPI the student of 414 - group

Supervisor: Qurbonova N.

Abstract

Learning a second language is a requirement as we all enter the globalized era. In the age of globalization, everyone must wrestle if they want to develop and not stagnate. The advantages of learning a foreign language are not far off the mark; yet, as an advantage, this is construed more narrowly. By mastering other languages, one may communicate more effectively, allowing for more open perspectives in information technology, and they will undoubtedly have greater capital to move into a world where technical advancement is always moving forward. You will learn various causes and benefits if you can master a foreign language.

Key: reading, writing, listening, speaking English.

Introduction

Multilingualism has become more than merely 'essential' in today's world. Being able to communicate in a language other than your native tongue has proven to be incredibly advantageous. Being able to converse in a foreign language helps you make 'real' connections with individuals and provides a deeper grasp of your language, whether from a financial or social standpoint.

What are the benefits of learning a foreign language? Learning a foreign language can help you get a better job. It is critical for firms to establish and maintain a strong footing in the global economy. It will be easier if they comprehend the psychology and language of their international clients. As a result, the majority of businesses,

Foreign language acquisition is beneficial in a variety of situations, particularly for university students. How important is it for pupils to learn foreign languages as a means of preparing for the future? This topic may pique one's interest in learning a foreign language. This topic of foreign languages has the potential to pique one's interest in learning a new language. This issue contains information for anyone interested in learning a foreign language, particularly English as an International Language. Some, but not all, Indonesians have access to education, and even those who do not necessarily graduate as skilled users of the English language in all respects, such as pronunciation.

The Reason Why You Should Learn English?

The role of communication is becoming increasingly critical in today's period of globalization, which is rapidly developing. The rapid growth of science and technology is increasing the opportunities for international communication.

English serves a vital function and serves a vital role as a global language. One of the obvious consequences is that an increasing number of people are attempting to learn and master English. It is vital to identify language performance in English language training. Two types of productive performance, or and writing, and two types of receptive performance, aura (or auditory) and reading, have been developed by the human race. The importance of language cannot be overstated.

According to Richard & Rodger, 1986, many citizens in various countries use English as a means of communication at various important international meetings. Mastery of English is very important because almost all global sources of information in various aspects of life use this language. (Rintaningrum et al., 2017)

How Important is English Education?

The English language is widely employed in a variety of fields. Starting with the economics, politics, business, and technology, we'll move on to the economy, politics, business, and technology. As a result, one of the most important prerequisites for competing in the globalization period is the capacity to communicate in English. Language may help you adjust to your surroundings and work by acting as a tool of communication as well as a means of adapting to your environment. People who are more fluent in foreign languages will find it simpler to communicate with a larger number of people, as well as communicate with people from other countries, allowing them to form more relationships.

If you talk to man in a language he understands, that goes to his head. if you talk to him own language, that goes to his heart. The point of this statement is that when talking to other people, it is better to speak in a language he understands. By using language that can be understood by other people, it will certainly establish good communication and relationships.

According to Brumfit (2001: 35) "English is an international language that it is the most widespread medium of international communication". This statement implies that English is the most extensive means of communication that can be used in almost all countries. The differences in the language of each country can be unified with English. Therefore it is important to learn English. (Singh, 2017)

What are the benefits of learning English?

English is the language of communication used by people all over the world. Many people in the world want to speak English. English language skills will increase a person's credibility in the eyes of the recruiting company. when a person is able to master English many factors influence it, If you have mastered the foreign language correctly, then you have the opportunity to be able to understand the current global condition. At least, you already understand various foreign terms and can explore conditions and understandings that apply globally.

It is undeniable that foreign language skills are absolutely necessary to support careers for employees and for job seekers who are currently looking for work. Even for some multinational companies, your foreign language skills will be tested immediately at the end of the interview session. By mastering English you will be more respected in your social sphere, because not everyone can master a foreign language. When someone is able to master a foreign language, his ability will affect his life. He will have broader knowledge and provide many opportunities for him in the world of work. (Fitriana, 2015)

How is someone able to learn a foreign language?

When it comes to learning English, there are a plethora of options available. In today's world, numerous learning programs offer integrated sessions so that students can grasp English lessons. They give their students a lot of assurance in terms of reading, writing, listening, and speaking English. Of course, the cost of issuing according to the required class is fairly high. However, as the technological period has progressed, a person can now learn foreign languages using application features found on cellphones or other advanced communication tools. Aside from that, there are a variety of things you can do at home to learn English, including everyday habits.

What are the problems that often occur when someone learns English?

With the many methods presented earlier, of course learning English is not easy. a person will definitely be faced with obstacles when he learns a foreign language. Environmental factors and personal habituation in using foreign languages in everyday life greatly affect a person. Imagine when someone is in a habit and environment that tends to use English more often, that person will learn English more quickly. It's a different story with someone who has really studied English but rarely uses the learning because most of the environment doesn't use English. Then that person will take longer to master English.

What happens when you are able to master English?

Language is the most important means of communication. English now controls all facets of communication, whether you like it or not. We can see English on practically all electronic equipment. Most Asian countries utilize English as a 'Medium of Instruction' or as a secondary language after their native tongue. As previously said, English is required to compete in the globalization era. The importance of knowing English for a person's progress in the Indonesian state is unavoidable. The subject is, whether you like it or not. This is something that every Indonesian should be aware of. Even if you are unsure whether or not you will have the opportunity to travel abroad, this knowledge is essential.

Conclusion

Anyone who wants to increase their quality should learn a foreign language. Particularly English, which has evolved into a global language. Regardless of age, a person will be helped in a variety of ways. Mastering a foreign language can bring enormous chances in life for both young and old individuals, whether in education, the workplace, doing business, or communication. Knowledge of English opens doors for people, especially in today's technologically advanced world. It will be simpler for a person to demonstrate his ability at work, and he will be more easily recognized if he is able to communicate the results of his efforts to a large number of people, of course in a foreign language.

References

1. Fitriana, I. (2015). Menguasai Bahasa Inggris: Bekal Potensial Dalam Pengembangan Wirausaha. 1–6. <https://media.neliti.com/media/publications/171216-ID-none.pdf>
2. Rintaningrum, R., Aldous, C., & Keeves, J. P. (2017). the Influence of Student Background Characteristics on Proficiency in English As a Foreign Language: Indonesian Context. Jurnal Sosial Humaniora, 10(2), 112. <https://doi.org/10.12962/j24433527.v10i2.3068>
3. Singh, S. (2017). Using self-Assessment tasks in foreign language classrooms. Asian EFL Journal, 9(11), 156–164.